

India Open: PV Sindhu beats Sung Ji Hyun, sets up final against Carolina Marin

PV Sindhu dished out a superb game of Badminton to outwit second seeded Sung Ji Hyun 21-18 14-21 21-14 in a battle of nerves where fortunes fluctuated frequently.

PTI | New Delhi, April 1, 2017 |

Highlights:

- Sindhu set up a mouth-watering summit clash with Olympic Champion Marin
- The fans will get a chance to witness an exciting finale

Olympic Silver Medallist P V Sindhu set up a mouth-watering summit clash with Olympic Champion Carolina Marin after a hard-fought win over World No 4 Korean Sung Ji Hyun in the Semi-finals of the India Super Series, here today.

Cheered on by a sizable crowd at the Siri Fort Sports Complex, Sindhu dished out a superb game of Badminton to outwit second seeded Hyun 21-18 14-21 21-14 in a battle of nerves where fortunes fluctuated frequently.

The fans will get a chance to witness an exciting finale, which will be a rematch of the Olympic final which was watched by millions of fans across the globe.

Earlier, two-time World Champion Marin of Spain defeated Japan's Akane Yamaguchi, seeded fourth, 21-16 21-14 in an easy contest to reach the finals.

Coming into the match with a 6-4 head-to-head record, Sindhu displayed nerves of steel as she produced some scintillating low lifts and dominated the nets to see off her opponent.
